

Teach Real-World Experiences

Banzai is a free online education platform used by over 140,000 teachers that integrates real-world financial and life literacy into the classroom—either by allowing you to build full lesson plans around it or by supplementing your existing content.

The screenshot shows the Banzai website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for Home, Select Course, Library, and Help. The main content area features a 'Pay Rent' game interface. A yellow sticky note with a red pushpin says 'YOUR RENT IS DUE.' Below it is a table with the following information:

Apartment No	117
Receipt No	J19W89
To	You, bub
Total Amount Due	$800 plz

To the right of the sticky note, there's a button labeled 'Game' and a note that says 'Use money in Checking and take the funds from Rent.' Below this, there's a section for 'ACCOUNTS' showing 'Cash' at $50.00, 'Checking' at $950.00, and 'Credit Card' at $0.00. A 'BUDGET' section shows 'Food' at $20.00, 'Car' at $30.00, 'Rent' at $800.00, 'Utilities', 'Other', and 'Reserves'.

Banzai is fully funded by your local sponsor and available at no cost to you.
